Casco Sends Invitation to All to Come and Bring Jane to Big Meeting.

"Come and bring Jane."

There is going to be a hot time at Casco on the "glorious Fourth," and the above is the soul-moving appeal that they have printed at the bottom of the enticing handbill. For, as the long-haired yep with the artistic temperament would say, that invitation to "bring Jane" has "the universal touch" in it. "Breathes there a soul so dead that to himself hath not said, 'this is Jane, my beloved Jane?'"

And many will go and fetch Jane to Harlan Howard's place, where the justification is going to be. The Good Roads Association of Casco is giving this grand entertainment as a benefit, the proceeds of which will go to the making of better thoroughfares. Jane will come in horse buggies and machine buggies and behind mules and in wagons—Jane, sweet and seventeen, Jane in the twenties, Jane spinster, Jane "spin" on "forty," and Jane married, bringing a Jane along. Oh, yes, Jane will be there, brother.

Jane will have a strenuous day. From 12 to 2 there will be a hair-raising baseball game between the Goodall and Montpelier teams, and Jane will be at the pitcher so that he'll throw the ball clean into the next county. After that comes the grand tournament, when Jane's beau, he red-haired or bald-headed, will crown her queen of all supper will take up a grand spell, lasting from 6 until 8, as there will be 300 different things to eat, and the joy of Jane's heart, comes the dance. "Dancing will be in the night," says the handbill, and Jane will be on the job until the last string of the last dance quits playing "Turkey in the Straw."

Yes, honey, bring your Jane along. Gentlemen, there are going to be some diabolical things done here, and if you haven't got your Jane along you'll miss half the fun. Jane will be there, anyway, for her Sunday best clothes, ready for the lemonade and the dancing, no matter how old she is, and nobody will have to go around saying, "Hasn't Jane taken up a considerable time?" Gentlemen, next to your mother, who do you love?" Jane.

GIRL BADLY HURT WALKING ABOUT ON STREET CAR

Noise and Excited Shout Caused Catherine Staples to Stop in Middle of Track.

FATHER FIRST TO REACH HER

Victim Dragged 30 Feet Before Motorman, Who Afterwards Fainted, Could Stop.

Confused by the noise of the clanging bell and the excited shout of a bystander to go back, Catherine Staples, three years old, of 519 North Eighteenth Street, was knocked down by an Oakwood and Main Street car shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and seriously injured.

The accident occurred almost directly in front of the residence of her mother and others had returned from a funeral of a child who had lived in the same house. Little Catherine was being taken across the street to the corner confectionery store by Pearl Carroll, twelve years old. The car, coming down the slope of Eighteenth Street, bore down rapidly, and motorman G. W. Macon rang his bell. Some one on the opposite side of the street, it is said, shouted to the little girl to come back.

It was a bad mistake. The child stopped, looked around, started to retreat, but the heavy forward trucks of the car were upon her. There was a faint scream, and then the grinding noise of the brakes of the car, which stopped. It was difficult to stop the car on such a grade, and it went about thirty feet further before being halted. The baby, who was in the car, was rolled in front of the car and then thrown aside.

It was her own father who drew her from next the wheels and bore her into the house to an agonized mother. Little Catherine was still conscious, but moaning with suffering. The city and county police, in charge, was summoned by an officer, but the parents preferred that the girl be attended by the family physician, and Dr. Julian W. Sloan was called in.

Motorman Fainted. The physician stated last night that the child is seriously injured, but about the head, but he is not certain yet whether the skull is fractured. If no complications set in Dr. Sloan is confident of a full recovery, but it will be several days before the result can be announced with certainty.

Motorman Macon fainted after he discovered that the child was seriously injured. He was taken to the hospital, but he is not expected to recover.

Robert Harris and Willie Grey, colored, were sent on to the grand jury from the Police Court yesterday morning on the charge of selling cocaine. Nelson Cook, colored, charged with breaking into the home of Dill Jones and stealing a quantity of clothing, was sent on to the grand jury. The eight white boys who were arrested Sunday afternoon for bathing in the dock were each fined $1.

Next Convention Here in October

Railway Signalmen's Association Coming Then, With 1,000 Delegates.

Already the calendar of conventions to be held here in the fall is being filled up. The Railway Signalmen's Association will meet here on October 1, bringing along with them a delegation of members of the Railway Supply Association. These two organizations will bring to the city at least 1,000 people. If the present estimates are not far wrong.

The convention of the Railway Signalmen's Association will be in session four days, having its headquarters at the Jefferson and holding its sessions in the hotel auditorium. Its program will be to hold a series of lectures and vital interest to railway signalmen. It is quite probable that James E. Fagan, of Cambridge, Mass., the railway signalman, will be one of those in attendance on this occasion.

It has been the custom for this convention to meet annually in Atlantic City, but Richmond's fame as a convention city and the fact that it will come here, Richmond was selected over several other cities. Secretary Wendell, of the association, Manager Weisiger, of the Jefferson Hotel, and Business Manager Dabney, of the Chamber of Commerce, will shortly hold a preliminary meeting to make preliminary arrangements for the gathering. Secretary Rosendorf was here last fall, conferring with Mr. Dabney.

The railway supply men will be here at the same time, and the city will be simply that of exhibiting their goods and taking orders. They will use the city auditorium, in all probability, for their exhibition, and will require every inch of it. All of the up-to-date signal appliances and equipment will be on hand, and it is expected that the exhibits will exceed all others in the past in point of size and elaborateness.

NEW $30,000 SCHOOL

Catholics to Add Impending Building to Col.

Plans have been filed in the office of Building Inspector Beck for the erection of a new school building for the children of North First Street, to be known as the Van de Vyver School for Colored Children. The building, being erected in honor of the present bishop of the Catholic diocese of Richmond, the plans have been drawn by Architect Charles M. Robinson, and the school will be named in his honor. The school building will be erected on the corner of North First and Second Streets, and will be a two-story building, with a total area of about 10,000 square feet. The building will be completed by the end of the year, and will be opened for the next school year.

INSPECT POST-OFFICE

Government Men Drop In for Annual Checking Work.

Six United States Post Office inspectors arrived in Richmond yesterday morning and began making the annual inspection of the post office here. The inspectors were accompanied by a brass band. They simply walked into the postmaster's office and began their work.

Postmaster Edgar Allan, Jr., while having no information that the inspectors would be here, was glad to have the opportunity to show how efficiently he conducts his office. The inspection will probably be completed to-morrow evening.

APPEALS TO BOARD

Fire Commissioner Dissatisfied With Ruling of Building Inspector.

The Board of Public Safety has been called to meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock to hear the appeal of Fire Commissioner W. A. Cheatwood from the decision of Building Inspector Beck. Mr. Cheatwood desires a permit to erect additions to his bathhouse in the rear of houses 2714 and 2716 East Street. The inspector has refused to grant the permit, on the ground that the wall was not strong enough to stand an additional story. The board consists of the Mayor, the Chief of the Fire Department and the City Engineer.

Board of Aldermen Called.

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen has been called for to-night at 8 o'clock to consider the action taken by the Council in appropriating $200 for the ornamental lighting of Broad Street. The Council Committee on Finance meets to-night at 8 o'clock, and a subcommittee from the Committee on Streets and Buildings meets at the same hour.

ROMP GLADLY IN OPEN AIR

Formal Dedication of Recreation Resort a Great Success.

Several hundred happy children plainly showed the delight they felt at the formal opening of the William Byrd Park playground yesterday afternoon. While the threatening weather no doubt prevented a large attendance, it did not affect the enthusiasm of those who were on hand for the occasion, and for several hours, or until the storm interfered, the little ones indulged in various pastimes dear to the juvenile heart and appeared to be having the time of their lives.

Schools are now closing, and all sorts of outdoor entertainment have lost their charm. This is the real beginning of the season of life out of doors, next to nature, and that sort of thing, and the playground is the place where they may develop their bodies and their minds by having fun. Recreation in the open air. Splendid opportunity is offered for baseball, tennis and the other forms of outdoor recreation. And the gates are open to the fresh air and a profusion of flowers and trees. And the gates are open to the poor, whose only possession consists of a stout pair of legs.

APPEALS MADE FOR MARSHALL HOUSE

School Board Hears Many Delegations on Importance of Preserving Old Landmark as Sacred Shrine—No Final Action Taken.

At a meeting of the School Board last night individuals and representatives of civic, business and other organizations urged that the home of the Chief Justice John Marshall be preserved by the city as a shrine to the preservation of Virginia Antiquities, to be preserved by that society for all time.

The board discussed the matter informally after the public meeting, but did not act.

It was announced later that the board will take no immediate action. All the members are of the opinion that it is of great importance that the board should not act hurriedly, and will give further consideration to the request.

The delegations were led by M. M. McGuire, who paid a glowing tribute to John Marshall, the man and the first Chief Justice of the "most august tribunal in the world." He said that the reason for his interest in the preservation of the house was that it should be preserved as an object lesson to the young men and women who would receive their education in the High School.

Letter From Colonel McCabe. A letter was read by Mr. McGuire from Colonel John McCabe, appealing to the board to take charge of the association the old building. He stated that it would be desecration to use the house for business purposes.

Mr. McGuire held in his hand a large number of resolutions adopted by the Civic Improvement League, the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Bar Association, and the city of Richmond, appealing to the School Board to take charge of the association take charge of the property.

James E. Cannon, representing the Chamber of Commerce, said that that organization is heartily in favor of preserving the building, that the only thing for the board to do is to take charge of the property. He said that the board should take charge of the property.
